MATRON CAUSES FIVE DEATHS

Proprietor of Old People's Home at Windsor Faces Charges Before Grand Jury.

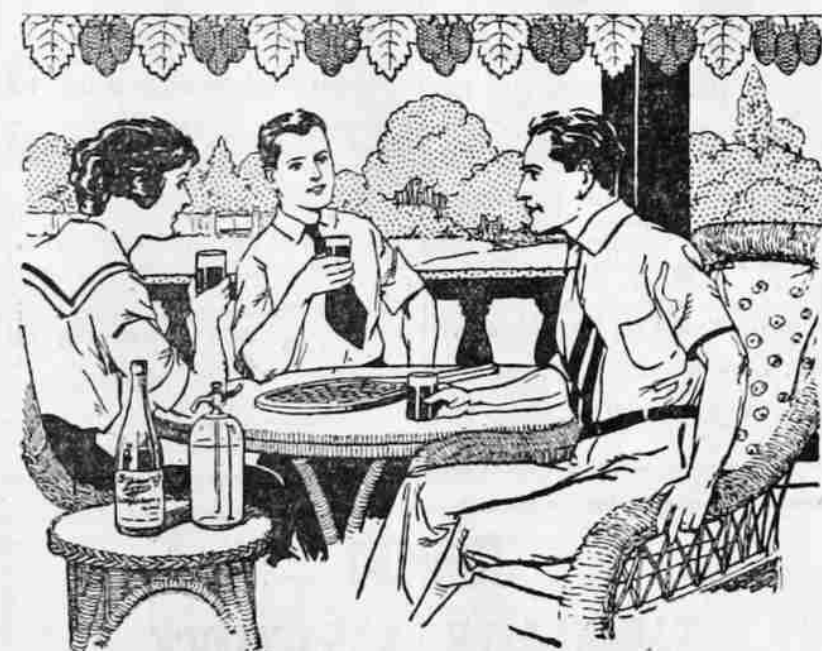

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 21.—Evidence to support charges that Mrs. Amey I. Archer-Gilligan, proprietor at Windsor of an old people's home, was responsible for the deaths of five inmates of the home, was laid before the grand jury today.

The deaths for which Mrs. Gilligan was arrested was that of Franklin R. Andrews, an inmate who died in 1914. As a result of an investigation the body was exhumed and it is alleged the autopsy showed the presence in the body of a powerful poison. Bodies of four other inmates which were later examined disclosed, it is charged, the presence of a like poison.

BLOODY FIGHTS WITH CIVILIANS

Encounters Between the Military and German Citizens Assuming Alarming Proportions.

London, Sept. 21, 12:45 p. m.—Reuter's Copenhagen correspondent sends the following: "The Wilhelmshaven Zeitung says the number of sanguinary and apparently organized encounters between the military and the military lately has assumed alarming proportions. Last week several street fights occurred with fatal results. Another occurred Sunday night when civilians, armed with knives, attacked a party of marines near the railway, killing two and mortally wounding others. The assailants escaped."

BUSINESS MEN PLEAD FOR PEACE

Committee Tries to Persuade Labor Leaders to Refrain From Calling Strike.

LAST DAY OF GRACE

Samuel Gompers in New York—Rioting Continues Nightly in Spite of Police.

New York, Sept. 21.—Seventy-five business men organized as a committee tried to persuade labor leaders today to refrain from declaring a general strike in sympathy with the street railway employees, of whom, it is asserted, there are 11,000 on strike. This is the last day of grace given by the labor unions to the mayor and volunteer mediators to settle the dispute with the Interborough Rapid Transit company and New York Railways company.

If today's conferences fail to find a plan of settlement, the labor leaders threaten to issue a call tomorrow for a general sympathetic strike to begin on Monday. The citizens committee had little hope of success.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor is here and has promised to attend meetings with the citizens' committee this afternoon. Local strike leaders also will participate in the conference. Mr. Gompers refrains from making any public announcement of his views as to the advisability of calling a general strike. It was reported today that some of the trade unions were opposed to it, owing to the fact that they have contracts with their employers which would be violated by a strike.

Rioting continues nightly despite the fact that 2,000 policemen were concentrated in the center of the city last night to protect elevated and cross-town surface lines, strike sympathizers bombarding cars with missiles. In one case several hundred strikers attacked a car in Central Park west and were beaten off only after a battle with the police.

LIBERAL PARTY LEADER SPEAKS

Major Bassermann Says His Views Are Shared by Admirals in Question of Use of Submarines.

Berlin, Sept. 19, 7 p. m., via London, Sept. 20, 7:25 a. m.—(Delayed).—Major Ernst Bassermann, leader of the national liberal party in a keynote speech delivered on Monday before his constituents in the Saarbrücken district, declared that the submarine campaign had been postponed and not abandoned. Major Bassermann advocated the widest possible use of both submarines and Zeppelins and the most ruthless methods of warfare.

The national liberal leader asserted that his views were shared by Admiral von Tirpitz, Admiral von Koenig, Prince von Buelow, and Count Zeppelin. He maintained that "in a struggle wherein the existence of Germany is at stake the most ruthless use of all possible weapons is called for." This sentiment was heartily applauded by his audience. Submarines and Zeppelins, continued Major Bassermann, were the most effective weapons against "our arch-enemy England."

Referring to the United States, Major Bassermann warned his hearers against trusting for any permanent effect upon American sympathies from England's blacklist policy and the achievements of the Deutschland and other commercial submarines. He warned them also not to hope that the present German protests to England would have any greater effect than their predecessors.

No prospects of peace were held out by the speaker. He told his hearers that it would be a delusion to believe that there was any immediate prospect of any end to the war. On the contrary, he said, Germany was facing a more difficult war than had at first appeared possible, but nevertheless he saw no reason to doubt ultimate victory.

BRITISH PLAN FOR COMPETITION

Shipping Trade Is Being Strengthened to Meet "After War" Business Conditions.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Sept. 20.—The shipping trade of Great Britain while suffering considerable losses from enemy submarines is nevertheless quietly strengthening itself by means of various financial amalgamations of interests to meet the "after war" competition and by means of fresh tonnage construction, despite the huge increase in cost of material and labor. The investing public are also showing their belief in the future of British shipping by absorbing all sorts of shipping shares privately and on various stock exchanges.

French Eject Germans. Paris, Sept. 20.—Determined attacks were made by the Germans last night on the French positions at Hill 76, north of the Somme. The Germans gained a foothold at some advanced points, the war office announced today, but subsequently were ejected.

TROOPS REVIEWED AT FORT BLISS

Twenty-six Thousand Guards and Regulars March in Column Twenty Miles Long.

AT FULL WAR STRENGTH

Spectators Throng Streets of El Paso—Mayor Declares Half Holiday.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 21.—National guardsmen and regulars—twenty-six thousand of them in dust-stained khaki—swung through the streets of El Paso and past a reviewing stand at Fort Bliss today in the first parade and review of an infantry division at full war strength ever held in the United States. Military men said, also, that a larger number of troops were in line than at any other time in the history of the country, with the exception of the Grand Review in Washington at the close of the Civil War, May 23 and 24, 1865.

Tanned by service on the border, the brown clad legions, cavalry, infantry, field artillery and auxiliary troops marched in an unbroken column, nearly twenty miles long, and which took about five hours to file past the stand in which Major-General Charles M. Clement, commanding the Pennsylvania division, and Brigadier-General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, reviewed them.

Participating in the review were troops from the regular army, from Massachusetts, Michigan, Kentucky, Ohio, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and New Mexico. In all 799 officers and 25,941 men. Eight thousand animals and one thousand vehicles, including ambulances, gun carriages and supply wagons, helped make up the pageant.

By order of the mayor this morning was a municipal half holiday in El Paso. Stores throughout the city were decorated with flags and bunting as were the homes along the line of march.

The review was tendered by General Bell to General Clement.

SHORT-WEIGHT FLOUR WILL RECEIVE ATTENTION

Salt Lake, Sept. 21.—Tribune: In a determined effort to eliminate the practice of selling short-weight flour, which inspectors recently made shreds, has existed for some little time in northern Utah and parts of Idaho. Heber C. Smith, of the state dairy and food commission is co-operating with Henry H. Blood, president of the Utah-Idaho Millers' association.

Commissioner Smith recently wrote President Blood, whose headquarters are at Kayville, asking for certain tests indicating short weight and asking for assistance in adjusting conditions where they were found faulty. Attention was called to the meeting held in Salt Lake at the Commercial club about a year ago, when an understanding was reached regarding the packing and marketing of flour.

President Blood immediately replied in a spirit indicating that every effort would be exerted by the association of which he is the head, to stop the practice, and he called attention to the fact that the most serious offenders are not members of the association of which he is president.

Surprised at Results. The president of the Utah-Idaho association expressed his great surprise at the fact shown by the investigation of the Utah inspectors, and says he can conceive no reason for some of the low weights of flour shown in the tests. The shrinkage in many cases was far greater than that normally expected in storing in dry weather in warehouses, for which due allowance is made.

President Blood states that there are two serious aspects. In the first place the ultimate consumer does not get what he pays for if the shrinkage is because of packing light at the mill, and second, the effect is vitally hurtful to the trade. It is pointed out that a shortage of three pounds on a 48-pound sack means, at the present market price of $3.60, a hundred-weight for patent, 21 cents overcharge on a 100-pound basis. In this manner the offending mill can undersell its competitors by 20 cents and still make more than the honestly-dealing manufacturer.

Co-operation Is Desired. The president of the Utah-Idaho association says that he is anxious for a conference with the state dairy and food department, and promises to co-operate in every possible manner. He indicates his keen desire that Utah manufacturers be known for their honest dealings.

According to the agreement made a year ago between Mr. Smith and members of the millers' association, it was pointed out that the millers in this territory were competing with those from all parts of the country, and that the custom was to have the 48-pound sacks weigh 98 pounds and the 60-pound sacks 48 pounds. Utah inspector agreed to a continuance of this practice, provided the exact weight were stamped plainly on each sack.

Mr. Smith asks housewives to weigh the flour they receive, and to report any shortages to their grocers. The co-operation of the grocers is also sought. George Shorten, deputy dairy and food inspector at Ogdens, and his assistant, J. E. Felt, were at the capital yesterday conferring upon the steps to be taken against those continuing the practice of packing and marketing short-weight flour.

VON TIRPITZ FIGHT CONTINUES

Full Discussion of Submarine Issue and Retirement of Chief Admiral Inevitable.

Berlin, Wednesday, Sept. 20, via London, Sept. 21, 12:30 p. m.—Renewed and full discussion in the reichstag of the submarine issue and the controversy which led to the retirement of Admiral von Tirpitz as minister of the navy, appears inevitable in consequence of the publication yesterday of the letters exchanged between Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and the admiral. From these letters the public learned that, in a private conversation, Professor Valentin asserted Admiral von Tirpitz had misled the reichstag in regard to the number of available submarines and the possibility of a submarine campaign.

The admiral declared that the admiralty should discipline Professor Valentin, but the chancellor, while freeing the admiral from the charges, took the position that the professor was not subject to his disciplinary powers.

BACK TO WORK. (By Walt Mason)

When I return from having fun, in rustic glades, with rod and gun, all tanned and fit and gay, I do not think it kind to prate of fun I had, to some poor skate who couldn't get away. While I roamed mountains picturesque, Jim Wax was toiling at his desk, to keep the wolf aloof; all summer long he strained his brow to lift the mortgage from his cow, and also from his roof. So it would be coarse work to come to poor old Jim and say, "By gum, I had a splendid time! You should have been out there with me, where on can snoop around and see all kinds of things sublime!" Instead, I say, "I envy you, who always have sane work to do, and never need to skip, to keep from being doubly bored, to blow in wealth you can't afford, on some weird, bughouse trip! Vacations are a false alarm; 'tis only distance gives them charm, for when you try them out, and sleep in tents and eat canned beans, you sigh for old familiar scenes, and hate yourself, old scout!" Then Jim, whose face was sad and stern, and who had woe and grief to burn, because he could not roam, looks up and says, his face alight, "I guess that's true! I think you're right! I'm glad I stayed at home!"—Copyright, 1915.

BRYAN TOURING WYOMING TOWNS

Warns Women Voters to Beware of "Republican Trickery" Regarding Suffrage Question.

Rock Springs, Wyo., Sept. 21.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, started today on his second day's tour of Wyoming in support of President Wilson and the Democratic ticket with the program calling for a number of speeches. Mr. Bryan, speaking here last night, appealed for the re-election of President Wilson on the ground that Wilson had kept the United States out of war with Europe and Mexico.

The speaker charged the Republican party was unable to cope with the problems that will face the United States at the end of the European war. Mr. Bryan declared that the Republican party had been "unscrupulous" in its methods concerning votes for women in suffrage states. He warned the Democratic women to beware of "Republican trickery."

HIS AMBITION. "I wish I was a rock a-sittin' on a hill, A-doin' nothin' all day long But just a-sittin' still. I wouldn't eat, I wouldn't sleep, I wouldn't even wash. I'd just sit there a thousand years And rest myself, by gosh!"—McClary's Magazine.
